Short Profile:

"There is no complete design"—a phrase I once read and have come to relate to deeply in my 8+ years as an architectural designer and project manager. This philosophy has shaped my approach to design, reinforcing my mastery of user needs, client relations, and project coordination. Whether in architecture or digital design, my goal has always been to create intuitive, functional, and aesthetically compelling experiences, ensuring repeat business and referrals through exceptional service.

In my previous work, I streamlined construction and design processes, minimizing inefficiencies by anticipating user interactions, planning building components, and optimizing workflows during early design phases. This same mindset now drives my approach to UI/UX and web design, where I focus on user-centric solutions, accessibility, and seamless digital interactions.

- A creative and detail-oriented thinker, passionate about functional, scalable, and user-centered design—whether in the physical or digital space.
- A collaborative team player, comfortable working across disciplines to bridge the gap between visual aesthetics, user experience, and technical execution.
- Always eager to learn, adapt, and explore new technologies, currently expanding my expertise in UI/UX methodologies, front-end development, and interactive digital experiences.
